A BIG BATTLE IN EGYPT

ENGLISH TROOPS VICTORIOUS.

Eight Hundred Rebels Killed and Two Thousand Wounded Col. Burnaby Killed-Two Lords Wounded.

Carno, Jan. 21.-The report of a victorious encounter with the rebels by Wolseley is confirmed. The battle took place twentythree miles north of Metamereh. The Eng--lish troops were greatly outnumbered, but fought with admirable discipline, keeping up a deadly fire on the enemy. The rebels also fought bravely and at one time sucone side of a hollow square, in which the troops were advancing. They failed to retun the advantage, however, being quickly driven back. At no time during the engagement was there even a momentary cossation of the English fire, the troops seeming to be cool and deliberate. The rebels, on retiring, left on the fleid eight hundred dead and about two thousand wounded, out of a force estimated to be 10,000 men. The English loss was sixty-five killed, among whom was Col. Fred Burnaby, author of the "Ride to Khiva," eighty-five wounded, including Lords St. Vincent and Airlie and six other killed by a spear-thrust which severed the ingular vein. Gen. Stewart's horse was shot, and in falling carried the general down, but he quickly extricated himself, and mounting another horse again led the attack. The English were without supplies of water or food during the entire fight.

A Singular Accident.

Acros, Ont., Jan. 21.-William Nelles, a farmer living in Nassagaweya, four miles from Acton, came to his end in a peculiar manner. He was thawing out the pump, using a hot rod to melt the ice. To try the handle he took hold of it and bore down forcibly, when the handle gave way. His feet slipped and he fell upon the back of his neck, striking the edge of the platform, which at this part was considerably raised. He never spoke again. His two sons, who were splitting wood a short distance from him, with the assistance of his wife, carried him into the house, and in less than 10 minutes he breathed his last. Upon examination his neck was found to be brok

CHOLERA IN ST. LOUIS.

Two Fatal Cases Reported and Precaution Taken Against Its Spreading.

Sr. Louis, Jan. 21.—Last Sunday Warff Pickner, a Russian Jew peddler who has been in this city ten days, was taken sick with vomiting, cramps and diarrhosa. This morning he was sent to the city hospital, where he died in about two hours. The attending physicians say all the symptoms of but to allay public fear a certificate of tation and payment of claims against the cholera nostra, or native cholera, was returned. Little is known of Pickner's history, but he is said to have come to St. Louis from New York by way of New Orleans. He was hirty-five years of age and leaves a family in New York. A second case is that of George ceeded in breaking the English guard on W. Evans, a colored man who was taken sick in the same manner. Dr. Mudd was called to see the case and pronounced it cholera. Wishing to have his judgment confirmed he sent for Dr. Dorsett to examine the case, and the diagnosis was confirmed. Evans died the same afternoon and was buried in haste, and the clothing and bedding were burned. Every place in the city where Pickner was known to have been, has been thoroughly disinfected.

FISHER FISHING FOR DAMAGES.

A Young Lawyer Who Does Not Propose to be Slandered.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 21.-Joseph Fisher, at rising young lawyer, instituted this morning action for slander against Mrs. G. B. Pattee, wife of a rich lumberman. The damages are placed at $10,000. It is said Mrs. Pattee disliked Fisher, and tried to persuade his affianced to cast him off by telling her stories to his discredit. The young lady repeated the stories to her lover, and on his denial of the truth of them she declined to desert him. Mrs. Pattee will be remembered as the mother of the woman who lately eloped to Boston with John B. Carling, son of the Postmaster-General of the Dominion.

He said that this Legisladon all their rights in Oklahoma. Laid over ture was already earning a reputation for extravagance, which in one particular would seem deserved. The resolution for daily distribution of the journal to township clerks would involve a daily expense of from $52.50 to $60; there was just as much reason for erable effort that they were enabled to forwarding copies of the journal to notaries meet their weekly pay-rolls. They were public or other official clerks, as they would not be read in either case, and he hoped that the resolution would be rescinded. He also said the printing of so many bills for the use of the committees was as unnecessary as it | now on account of the mills being shut was expensive. In conducting the proceedings of the House he wished members to be prompt and attentive, as it was a decided inconvenience to go back in the order of business. Mr. Parkhurst presented a resolution to reconsider the resolution for distributing copies of the journal to township, city and village cierks. Mr. Campbell said it was desirable that people in country places should see copies of the journal, as that was the only way they could tell how their representatives voted. The House got into a tangle over the technicalities. Motions of all kinds were made and rejected, and finally the resolution was passed with a shout. A PUBLIC NUISANCE.

A Glue Factory Makes a Smell and Citizens Indignant in Paris.

William and Adolph Messerschmidt, of the township of Paris, are accused by their neighbors of maintaining a public nuisance. The information sets forth that they did erect certain buildings near the public highway, also near a certain ancient public stream of water, also near the dwelling of houses of divers citizens for the purpose of manufacturing glues and tallows; that they did set up furnaces, stoves, cauldrons, boilers and vats and did use them for boiling hoof , horns and bones, from which divers noxious, offensive and unwholesome smokes vapors, smells and stenches did arise until the neighborhood could not rest; and that certain unwholesome, vile and noxious scums and liquids polluted the pure currents of the ancient stream so that it could not be used for colinary or domestic purposes, and that the cattle could not drink therefrom, all of which it is asserted is against the peace and dignity of the people of Michigan. The Messerschmidts were arraigned before Justice Westfall yesterday, and the investigation of the gine factory will come off on Thursday of next week.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

ESTABLISHED LAST EVENING.

A Praiseworthy Effort Which Promises to be Successful Officers and Committees Chosen.

About fifty citizens assembled in the Coun-eil chamber last evening to arrive at some The bill for removing bodies from the plan for securing work for the many unemployed people in the city. Mayor Belkuap called the attention of the gathering to the object of the meeting. He was selected to act as chairman, and the reporters of the city press present were chosen to act as secretaries. Mayor Belkuap stated that there were not by one-half as many men out of employment in this city now as there were in October; nearly all of the manufacturers in the city were striving to keep all the men they could at work, and it was with considerable effort that they were enabled to manufacturing goods and piling them up but the pay-rolls went on just the same. There were a few men out of employment down, but on the whole the city was not, as far as he had been able to ascertain, in as deplorable a condition as had been reported. T. D. Gilbert, Esq., said that he had given the question some thought during the past two days, and was unable to see how the city could establish any plan, as city improvements were brought about by petition from the people. He had conversed with several gentlemen, who were unable to suggest any scheme for relief.

M. B. Bissell arose and submitted the fol-

"To relieve the immediate wants of a large number of the unemployed men of our city. I would respectfully recommend the adoption of the following plan, with whatever amendments may be deemed best:

"First-The organization of an association, to be known as the Citizens' Employ ment Bureau, the officers of which shall be a president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, and an executive committee of three members.

"Second—They shall have a temporary office, and be on duty from 8 to 10 a. m. each day for as many days as the circumstances of the case may require.

"Third—This bursan shall appoint a committee of two men from each ward, who will pledge themselves to make a thorough canvass of every establishment employing any help, such as woodworkers, machinists, blacksmiths, carpenters, etc., and get, if possible, a pledge that they will give employment to a certain number of men from one to ten or more until March 1, or to the 1st of April or May, subject to the men doing their work faithfully and well, the committee to report each day to the bureau the number of men and branch of labor required.

Mr. Bissell added that the Bissell Carpet Sweeper Factory would employ five men.

Ald. Lanniee thought there were a good many more people out of work than had been named by the Chairman, and that he knew of instances where many were suffering for the want of the necessities of life.

Capt. Coffinbury, County Superintendent of the Poor, stated that he had thirty or forty more families on his list than there such value for the money of new prevail in each were in October, and that they were receive Department of our Store, to make what some ing supplies from him. There were a great many Polanders in the city who had been here but a short time and who were unable to speak the language or get work. There were also some in the city who owned their homes and were in need of food and fuel. They had been thrown out of work, and their savings had been exhausted.

Hiram Luton related an incident in which a tramp played on his sympathies to the extent of twenty-five cents, then spent it for "budge." This class of professional beggars should not be benefited by the resolutions

J. P. Creque moved that Mr. Bissell's proposition be adopted. Mr. P. V. Pox favored the adoption of Mr. Bissell's plan, who belonged here and are worthy receive the benefit of it, and not foreign workmen who might be attracted here by the plan. J. H. Tibbits objected to the cases of tramps being compared to the laboring men of the city. It was an unfair reflection on the workingman of Grand Rapids. The sympathy manifested by the business men of this city; would tend to create the best of feeling among workmen. As long as the people recognized their common interests in this Men's, Youths', Boys' and Children's way Grand Rapids would be all right. Ald. DeGraaf stated that the Brasell proposition would only benefit the mechanic and the man who had a trade, but not the general laborer. These men are the most des. For the Purpose of Reducing Stock. Willard Barnhart; Social Committee; Jas. Ald. Creque said that this body could not will the on Mr. DeGranf's amendment lawfully, "WINTER OVERCOATS" act on Mr. DeGranf's amendment lawfully, and that the common council would be the proper place to introduce it.

Ald, Gilbert thought that Mr. Bissell's engrestion was the only practical one offered. Ald De Granf again made an appeal in behalf of the men who worked upon the streets, who had no trade, and who would be out of place in a factory.
